TEMPERANCE.—James Hoban, Esq., it is expected, will deliver an address on temperance this evening before the Freeman's Vigilant Temperance Society at Concert Hall.

SANDS'S SARSAPARILLA.—The remarkable transmutations which food undergoes in the human stomach have long engaged the attention of the chemist. Some years ago, in Paris, some very interesting experiments were made in relation to the digestive powers, by introducing various kinds of food into the stomach of a boy, through an ulcerated opening communicating therewith. From the observations made a scale was formed, showing the facility with which different kinds of nutriment are dissolved in the stomach, and may now be found in the Journal of the Academy of Science. It is to be regretted that the operation of medicinal substances could not be tested in the same way. We have, however, incontestable evidence of the salutary influence of at least one medical preparation upon these organs and the fluids they generate in its immediate and general effects. Sands's Sarsaparilla is that preparation. It at once restores power and vigor to the stomach and secretory organs, causing them to produce healthy materials for blood, renovates the whole system, and eradicates not only scrofula and the whole tribe of eruptive diseases, but all that spring from imperfect indigestion and impurity of the blood.

Prepared and sold, wholesale and retail, by A. B. & D. SANDS, Wholesale Druggists, 79 Fulton st., New York.

Agents for Washington city:—ROBERT FARNHAM, Bookseller, corner of Pennsylvania avenue and 11th street, and R. S. PATTERSON, Druggist, corner of Pennsylvania avenue and 9th street.

Price $1 per bottle; 6 bottles for $5.

The Ladies' Agatha Marshall Total Abstinence Benevolent Society, and the ladies of the city generally, are particularly invited to be present at the meeting of the Freeman's Vigilant Total Abstinence Society this evening, at Concert Hall. The semi-annual report of the above named benevolent society will be read, and an appeal made to the ladies to come forward and aid a society which has clothed many a perishing family the two last winters in this city. James Hoban, Esq., Joseph Whipple, and others will address the meeting. The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock precisely.

GEO. SAVAGE, President.

TWENTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION.

THURSDAY, MAY 23, 1844.

SENATE.

Mr. HANNEGAN rose to move the reconsideration of the vote by which the Senate yesterday postponed indefinitely the Army Retrenchment bill.

The CHAIR at first said the motion would be entered, but it was afterwards found that the bill had been sent to the other House, and was therefore beyond the reach of the Senate. It was suggested that a message might be sent to the House to recover the bill, and Mr. H. prepared a resolution for this purpose, which was laid on the table for the present.

Mr. LEWIS presented a memorial from Alabama, in favor of the annexation of Texas.

Mr. UPHAM presented a memorial from Vermont, adverse to this measure.

Mr. McDUFFIE rose to ask the indulgence of the Senate—he had almost said to throw himself upon its charity—to allow Mr. Stansbury, Reporter, to be present in Executive session to-day, during the delivery of his remarks: he would rather make a dozen speeches than to write one out.

The CHAIR observed that it was hardly a proper motion to be submitted in Legislative session, but, if no objection was made, he would put it.

Mr. BERRIEN suggested that the motion be deferred until the Senate went into Executive session, which was done.

Mr. Bagby's resolution, that the Senate meet, on and after Monday, at 11 o'clock, was adopted.

TEXAS.

Mr. McDUFFIE said he had submitted a joint resolution yesterday, in Executive session, which he thought it proper to introduce in Legislative session, and he desired now to give notice to this effect.

Mr. BERRIEN observed, that, if it was proposed to transfer business which originated in Executive session to Legislative session, the motion for such purpose should be made in the former; which was assented to.

[This joint resolution is, substantially, for the annexation of Texas to the United States.]

CANCELLED TREASURY NOTES.

Mr. EVANS called up the bill, yesterday ordered to be engrossed, respecting the payment of these notes in the hands of innocent holders.

Mr. WRIGHT seemed to think that the bill was too general in its terms—that it not only paid for the notes already purloined, but opened temptation to the stealing of others.

Mr. EVANS explained. He had not supposed there would be any objection to this bill. The notes which it proposed to pay probably amounted to $30,000. They were purloined from the custom-house at New Orleans, and the loss was undiscovered for nine months after it occurred.

By law, receivers of public moneys were obliged to receive these Treasury notes, and the marks of cancellation had been extracted from those in question by a chemical process, so that it was impossible to tell the spurious from the genuine.

Such a thing could not occur again.

At the suggestion of Mr. DAYTON, the word "heretofore" was introduced into the bill, so as to make its action retrospective only.

The Senate then passed into Executive session.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The first question was on suspending the rules to admit a resolution submitted yesterday by Mr. DICKINSON, of Tennessee. The House refused to suspend them.

Mr. COBB, of Ga., presented resolutions and other proceedings of a Texas annexation meeting in Chappel county, and moved their reference and printing.

Mr. WHITE, of Ky., said that it was never the practice of the House to print resolutions of primary meetings, and he must object to the resolution if the motion to print was insisted upon.

Mr. COBB rejoined, that similar proceedings from Virginia had been printed the other day, and he could not, in justice to himself and constituents, suppress the motion to print.

Mr. WHITE then objected.

Mr. COBB moved a suspension of the rules.

Mr. WHITE said, as it was a serious matter to introduce a new precedent, in subversion of all the former practice of the House, he should move that there be a call of the House. On this proposition, the yeas and nays were called, and the call was refused by 122 to 41. The vote was then taken on suspending the rules, and this was also refused by a vote of 99 to 65.

Mr. CLINCH, of Ga., after the announcement of this vote, desired to present resolutions adopted at a meeting in Camden county, wherein the proposition to annex Texas under the present treaty is denounced. The resolutions were not received, being objected to.

NAVY APPROPRIATION BILL.

The consideration of this bill was resumed in Committee, upon amendments, without debate.

An amendment, submitted by Mr. DAVIS, of Ky., appropriating $50,000 for the purchase of American hemp, was adopted.

Mr. McKAY proposed an amendment, giving $671,000 for the pay of seamen on the lakes, iron steamers, and miscellaneous matters.

This amendment created considerable sensation.

Mr. ADAMS contended, with some excitement, that this amendment was not in order. It was monstrous, that such a proposition should be made and hurried through here without discussion.

The CHAIR called to order, and Mr. A. reluctantly took his seat, but appealed from the decision of the Chair, who had decided that the amendment was in order.

The decision of the Chair was sustained.

Mr. McKAY remarked, that as the amendment had caused great excitement in the House, he would withdraw it.

An amendment was adopted abolishing the use of the spirit ration.

An amendment was pending to abolish the practice of corporal punishment in the Navy.

Mr. SCHENCK moved further to amend, by providing that "no sailor be compelled to go aloft in a storm, and shorten sail, unless after a vote taken by the ship's company." (This amendment created great merriment, but the object of the mover, to cast ridicule upon the effort of a parcel of land-lubbers to regulate the discipline on board ship, did not entirely succeed, for it was decided that Jack should not have the cat-o'-nine tails by a vote of 67 to 63.)

The navy bill was then laid aside, and the post office bill was taken up.

The question pending was on the amendment to abolish the office of special agent in the Post Office Department, and giving $10,000 to the Department for the purpose of suppressing mail depredations.

Mr. HALE did not believe it at all necessary to continue this office, and thought postmasters, if clothed with proper authority, would be quite as effective in detecting mail depredators as these agents. Mr. H. related some of his experience in this matter, and told of one rogue, who had been detected by a postmaster in his neighborhood, who had given bonds in two thousand dollars and then made his escape to Texas, where, probably, said Mr. H. he is likely to remain until Texas is annexed to the United States. (Great laughter.)

Messrs. McKAY, SCHENCK, and others, addressed the House upon this amendment, which was finally rejected; and the bill was passed.

FORTIFICATION BILL.

On motion of Mr. McKAY, the House went into committee, and took up this bill in order to concur in certain amendments made by the Senate. These amendments, for Forts in Arkansas, were agreed to.

This bill was then laid aside, and the bill from the Senate to settle land claims in Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, and Arkansas, was taken up.

The bill, which was read through, and was very long, was vehemently opposed by Mr. CAVE JOHNSON, who contended that it was entirely subversive of every principle heretofore maintained by the Government in reference to the public lands.

After Mr. J. concluded, the committee rose.

In the House, the amendments to the fortification bill were agreed to, and

The House adjourned.
